

Transnational Law & Culture Programme

The University of Macerata, Department of Law offers international incoming students the Transnational Law & Culture programme, a series of courses in English (up to 67 ECTS overall) in order to help maintain an international approach to the legal sciences, while benefiting the facilities of the highly ranked University of Macerata, and the lifestyle of a beautiful medieval Italian city.

International students enrolled in the programme and passing courses for at least 60 ECTS will be granted a certificate, stating their successful participation to the TL&C programme. The courses on offer in the Transnational Law & Culture programme are as follows:

Comparative Legal Systems / 9 ECTS
Prof. LAURA VAGNI

Comparative Contract Law / 8 ECTS
Prof. ERMANNO CALZOLAIO from academic year 2018/19

Constitutional Law / 6 ECTS
Prof. ERIK LONGO

Economics / 9 ECTS
Prof. ELEONORA CUTRINI

European Company Law / 8 ECTS
Prof. ALESSIO BARTOLACELLI

European Legal History / 6 ECTS
Prof. LUIGI LACCHÈ

European Union Law / 9 ECTS
Prof. FABRIZIO MARONGIU BUONAIUTI

International Law / 12 ECTS
Prof. PAOLO PALCHETTI

International students are free to choose the courses they are interested in. They may also benefit from a 10-hour seminar of *Introduction to Italian Law, held at the beginning of the first semester, whose attendance provides them with 2 additional credits (ECTS). In that seminar, the lecturers involved in the programme supply basic information regarding the main issues forming the subject of their courses, in order to foster the integration of foreign students; alongside that basic information about the UniMC library system and databases will also be provided.

In addition, Italian and foreign visiting professors in Macerata will be involved in the programme alongside UniMC lecturers whenever pertinent depending on their topics of interest and research, in order to broaden the overall perspective of the programme. International students enrolled in the TL&C programme are strongly encouraged to attend these additional seminars and classes.
